

---

Saniyah Nicole Darby-Lum has been dancing since the age of four, with a strong passion for modern dance as her favorite genre. She is currently a high school dance major at Cab Calloway School of the Arts, where she continues to expand her training and performance experience.

For over five years, Saniyah has been a member of the Dance4Life Performance Troupe (The Experience), performing in major events such as the Philadelphia Juneteenth Parade, the National Cherry Blossom Festival Parade, and Gospel on Independence. Her training includes prestigious summer intensives with Alonzo King LINES Ballet and The Ailey School, experiences that have further developed her artistry and technical foundation.

Saniyah is currently a dancer with the pre-professional company Ballet Dynamiks and recently attended intensive training at the Debbie Allen Dance Academy. She is committed to growing as an artist, sharing her love of dance, and pursuing excellence in every opportunity.