
Briana Hayman, a Newark, Delaware native, has cultivated a dynamic 20-year career in the dance industry as a performer, educator, and choreographer. Her journey began at just three years old, training in ballet, jazz, tap, modern, hip hop and lyrical.

Briana is a proud alumna of Cab Calloway School of the Arts, Delaware's premier performing arts school, where she majored in dance from middle through high school. During her time at Cab, she was an active member of the school's dance company, further developing her artistry and stage presence.

To expand her training, she studied at Delaware Arts Conservatory, Eleone Dance Theater, and the prestigious Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater. Her dedication to growth also led her to participate in intensive programs and workshops across the U.S., as well as performances in international destinations including China and regional events throughout Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, and Delaware.

Briana earned her Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dance from the University of the Arts in Philadelphia, where she continued her rigorous training in ballet, modern, jazz, hip-hop, contemporary, and tap. While in college, she booked her first professional role as a dancer for the Philadelphia 76ers, performing for three consecutive NBA seasons. During this time, she had the opportunity to share the stage with artists such as Jordin Sparks, Montell Jordan, Bell Biv DeVoe, Desiigner, Nina Sky, Biz Markie, and Naughty By Nature.

Represented by Bloc Talent Agency in New York City, Briana's performance credits include appearances on major platforms such as The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon, Good Morning America, BET, and the Billboard Hot 100 Festival, performing for artists like Demi Lovato, G-Eazy, and Cardi B.

Beyond performing, Briana has served as a competition judge for Star Dance Alliance, the nation's leading dance competition organization, and continues to perform professionally, currently dancing for 90s R&B artist Gina Thompson.

As a passionate educator, Briana has over a decade of teaching experience. She began as a student teacher and grew into full-time instruction, now owning and operating her own dance studio: Delaware Center for Dance. She is currently training under the American Ballet Theatre curriculum and taking coursework through the National Dance Education Organization to continue her professional development and better serve her students.

Briana takes pride in building meaningful, individual relationships with each dancer, fostering both technical excellence and personal growth. She values strong parent partnerships, understanding that a supportive community is essential to a child's success in the arts.

Whether she's teaching, choreographing, mentoring, or performing, Briana is dedicated to inspiring the next generation of dancers with the same passion and purpose that launched her own journey.
